

ROADMAP

A Career Discovery Workshop

- The majority enter college without a graduation plan or direction. One-third drop out their first year. Less than half graduate in 2 or 4 years.
- 70% graduate college with debt. Average $37K. The majority are in default, compromising their chances to serve where God calls.
- College students often take a hiatus from church attendance after leaving home.

The trend is alarming and many students are floundering. Cheri Frame, Credits Before College, is committed to helping students identify their design and discover a career direction that is suited to their personality, skills, interests and values. Invite me to partner with your church and present this NEW dynamic, interactive 2-part seminar for teens and their parents.
